Human Process Laboratory (Lab)

Founded in 1972, Indian Society for Applied Behavioural Science (ISABS) is a national, voluntary society of behavioural scientists engaged in applying their knowledge and skill to the well being of persons, organisations, communities and the society at large.

ISABS programs focus on human processes and utilizes T-group and experience-based learning as its main training methodology. Experiencing and reflecting on one's patterns of behaviour, conceptualizing and experimenting are the steps in this process of learning. T-group programs (BLHP & ALHP) focus on building competency in personal effectiveness and making it available for organizational and societal development. Typically, the methodology involves a small group of participants working along with facilitator/s to learn about human processes. This helps in deeper self-awareness, discovery of their strengths, their styles, the effectiveness of their interpersonal and group interactions, how they perceive others and are perceived by others, etc. ISABS is the only organisation in India which offers accreditation in T-group facilitation.

Learning Focus	Likely Individual Benefits	Likely Organizational Benefits
Self-Awareness	The individual becomes aware of her/his emotions, strengths and weaknesses.	S/he accurately assesses herself/himself and develops self-confidence to perform organisational tasks.
Leading Self	The individual develops the capacity to effectively manage her/his motives and regulate their behaviours	The payoff for the organisation is enhanced individual potential with self-control, trustworthiness, conscientiousness, initiative, ability to adapt and effectively influence others
Group Process and/or Social Awareness	The individual develops the capacity to understand what others say and feel and why they feel and act as they do.	This results in improved empathy, organisational awareness and service orientation
	This capacity enables the individual to offer and receive feedback and get desired results from others and reach personal goals.	As a result, the individual is able to develop others, provide leadership, influence, communicate effectively, becomes a change agent, manage conflicts, build teams and collaborate.
